BUSY EXPRESS MAN HAS GOOD REASONS

H. Wagner of Salt Lake City Tells Why He Indorses Plant Juice.

"It is all you claim for it and I am recommending it to my friends," said Mr. H. Wagner, who conducts an express and moving business and whose home is at 417 South Fifth East. He was speaking of Plant Juice and talking to the demonstrators at Schramm-Johnson's store No. 2.

"It is great stuff. I heard so much talk about it that I got enthused over it before I started in. I had stomach trouble and was a really nervous. The same old medicines I had been taking for years did not do me any good. I had hopes from Plant Juice at the start, and say, I was not disappointed. In ten days I was free of stomach trouble; could eat what I pleased, and my nerves—I did not know I had any. They were as strong as they ever were. You can put me down as a friend of Plant Juice."

Those who take Plant Juice get immediate benefits. They find their appetite improved, food digests better; they sleep better. All feeling of depression passes and instead of gloominess comes brightness, elasticity, renewed vigor and health. If you suffer with stomach, kidney, blood or liver ailments Plant Juice will give you immediate relief and will cure you.

Plant Juice is for sale at any one of Schramm-Johnson's five stores.

SHEEP TRAILING IS CAUSE OF BAD WATER

City Health Officials Find Marked Improvement Over Former Tests.

Positive proof that the trailing of sheep through the canyons is largely responsible for contamination of city water supply is found, according to the city health officials, in the bacteriological tests of water from the various streams, which were completed yesterday by Dr. Hardie Lynch, city bacteriologist.

The tests show the water supply at present to be greatly improved as compared with existing conditions several months ago, when the herds of sheep were being trailed through from the winter to the summer ranges. Practically no coliform bacteria were found, and as it is this form of bacteria that harbors the typhoid germ, the health officials are elated over the tests.

Water from streams that showed as high as 3000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter early in the summer was found to contain as low as 300 and 250 bacteria and none of these included the dangerous coliform bacteria.

While the improvement is partly due to the energetic steps and precautions undertaken by the city and county authorities during the summer, Dr. Samuel C. Paul, health commissioner, is convinced that the fact that no sheep have been through the canyons in recent months is largely responsible for the improved conditions.

To prove this conclusively, Dr. Paul will have another test made of water taken from streams along which the sheep pass after the fall exodus of the sheep from the mountains to the desert begins. If the contamination shows an increase, the sheep will be taken to renew the fight against the sheep trails and their elimination will be advocated as the only means of safeguarding the public health so far as the water supply is concerned.

The greatest number of bacteria found in the recent examination were in samples taken from Parley's canyon. None of these were of the dangerous variety, however, no trace of the coliform or gas-producing bacteria being found.

Samples taken from Alexander creek, a tributary to Parley's creek, showed 500 bacteria to the cubic centimeter, all harmless variety. This creek contained 2500 to the cubic centimeter last spring when the sheep were crossing it. The same improvement was noted in Mountain Dell and at Roach's in the upper part of the canyon.

The waters of City creek, Big Cottonwood and from the Emigration tunnel all withstood the test well. The bacteria in the samples was of a negligible quantity and of harmless variety.
